2 july – 2 august

Cley Contemporary Art is an annual open submission art exhibition set in a variety of locations in and around the village of Cley-next-the-Sea in North Norfolk. It offers an opportunity to see new work from a wide range of contemporary artists with a Norfolk connection in stunning surroundings.

Each year the committee appoints a guest curator who has the task of selecting from an open call for submissions, which ensures a continuing fresh approach to the exhibition. The curator is also encouraged to bring their own selection of invited guest artists which broadens the range of artists contributing to the show.

Cley 15 runs from 2 July–2 August. It includes work by 52 artists including prints, drawings and painting, sculpture, installation and performance.

The locations this year are St Margaret's Church, Crabpot Bookshop, Cley Windmill, Norfolk Wildlife Trust Visitor Centre, and the beach.

There is also a series of workshops, events and activities to accompany the exhibition – see the website for details.
